I commit to this Brit Adamah in honor of Tu Bishvat, the holiday of the trees.
In order to fulfill our commitment to God, trees and the earth I will:

If you can't think of anything on your own you can choose a promise below.

Protecting Trees

- ___ I will use both sides of all notebooks and paper I write or print on.
- ___ I will buy and use paper with the most post-consumer recycled content possible.
- ___ I will write a letter to my local or national representative explaining why they should act to protect trees & forests.

Conserving Resources

- ___ I will recycle all aluminum, paper, and plastic.
- ___ I will bring a litter-less lunch to school or work.
- ___ When I leave a room, I will make sure all lights and appliances are off, and help my family remember to do this.
- ___ Instead of getting in a car to drive someplace close to my home, I will walk, bike or take public transportation.

Caring for the Land

- ___ I will plant a tree, shrub or native flowers in my yard or neighborhood.
- ___ I will grow some of my own food (herbs or vegetables) in my yard or community.
- ___ I will eat food that is locally grown and organic whenever possible.
- ___ I will give tzedakah money to organizations that work to stop climate change & protect our earth.

In honor of Tu Bishvat 5771, I commit to fulfill this Brit Adamah.
